

Down Under Collection Deluxe Getting Started

About the Graphic Files

The Down Under Collection Deluxe contains graphic files in 3 different formats:

Colour GIF

Colour JPEG

B & W GIF

These graphic files do not do anything on their own, but must be placed into documents created with your favourite word processing, desktop publishing, presentation or website creation software.

You may use the graphic files directly from the CD, or copy one or more of the folders to your hard drive and access the files from there. The CD does not need to be in the CD-ROM Drive if you copy the graphics folders to your hard drive.

Catalogue

The Down Under Collection Deluxe CD also contains a catalogue which, when installed to the hard drive, allows you to view thumbnails of each graphic, identify the location/path of each graphic file on the CD, print out an image catalogue, and view instructions on how to use the graphic files with several popular applications. N.B. The catalogue MUST be installed on the hard drive. It cannot be operated from the CD.

Installing the Catalogue

Windows

1. Insert the CD in the drive.
2. Select Start, then Run from the taskbar.
3. Type D:\Setup.exe (where D is your CD drive),
4. OR select Browse, select DUCD (which is the name of the CD you inserted).
5. Select (i.e double-click) Setup.exe and then OK.
6. Follow the online instructions for the rest of the installation.
7. The Down Under Collection Deluxe catalogue can then be launched from the shortcut in the Programs Menu.

Macintosh

1. Insert the CD in the drive.
2. Copy (i.e. click-drag) the folder called "Image Catalogue" to your hard drive.
3. Open the folder just copied to your hard drive and double-click on the file called "DUCD Image Catalogue".
