GAMEPLAY CONTROLS

Basic Controls

Duck Dive – To perform a duck dive you must be laying on your board. Turn and face the wave and press the 6 on the Numpad to dive under the current wave. This will allow you to skip the wave and go for the next one.

Stand Up – Paddle in the direction of the arrow displayed on the Wave Meter by using the directional pad. When you see the wave begin to lift you up, press the 8 on the Numpad to stand.

Jump – Aim in the direction you want to jump and press and release the 2 on the Numpad.

Carve – Hold down the 4 on the Numpad and make a turn to the left or right to carve the wave.

Grab Turns – Hold down the 6 on the Numpad and make a turn to the left or right while grabbing your board.

Launching into Air – Point the nose of the board towards the top of the wave and press and release the 2 on the Numpad.

Tail Slide – Hold down the 8 on the Numpad while holding the ← or →. You will spin on the axis of the board. Don't try to spin too much or you will bail.

Note: Try pressing buttons twice in a row. You may get some new moves.

Trick Controls

Air Tricks – Launch into the air and press any direction on the arrow keys and the 6 or 4 on the Numpad at the same time to perform an air trick.

Flip Tricks – To perform a flip trick, just jump into the air and press a diagonal direction on arrow keys (i.e. Up and left arrow used together) along with the 4 on the numpad.

Grab Tricks – To perform a grab trick just jump into the air and press any direction along with the 6 on the Numpad.

Exit Moves – If you want to launch off the back of the wave you can perform an exit move. Double tap the 8 on the Numpad once you're in the air, then perform an exit move. Check your trick book to see what these are.

Face Tricks – When riding the face of the wave you can perform many different moves. Double tapping the 4, 6 or 8 on the Numpad will execute these. Double tapping combinations of these buttons will also perform moves.

Snaps – Double tap the 4 on the Numpad at the lip of the wave to perform a snap turn. You can rotate left or right while in the maneuver.

Floater – To perform a floater, hold down the 8 on the Numpad and release it at the lip of the wave. This maneuver can only be performed on the lip near the breaking section of the wave or on top of the breaking section of the wave. You can also land in a floater from an air trick on the breaking section. This will keep you from bailing.

Stalling – To stall, simply press down on the arrow keys. This is an easy way to get into the tube.

Super Stall – To super stall, double tap down on the arrow keys to immediately slow down.

Special Tricks – To perform a special trick your Special Meter must be maxed (yellow). Once your meter is "maxed" you can do special maneuvers in the air, face, and tube. Check your trick book to see what these moves are.

Entering the Tube – When near the tube, slow down by stalling to enter the tube. Once in the balance meter will appear. Pressing down on the arrow keys (stalling) is what initiates the tube ride. You can also enter by performing a face trick into the tube. Remember to stall once inside the tube to initiate the ride.

Tube Tricks – When in the tube, press any arrow key and the 8 on the Numpad to perform a tube trick.

Note: If the tube is too small, you may not be able to stand in the tube. If you cannot stand you cannot perform a tube trick.

Tube Balance – Press the 6 on the Numpad to grab rail and improve your balance.

Quick Cuts – To center yourself in the tube, use the Q and E keys to move back and forth. This movement will not affect the balance meter. Quick cuts slow you down so when you perform them, you will go slightly deeper into the tube.

Tube Scoring – There are three zones in each tube. The deeper you are in the tube, the more points you will get. The deeper in the tube you go, the harder it is to get out.

SCORING

Linking Tricks

Special Meter: There are two sections of the Special Meter.

Green – The meter will start out empty until you perform tricks. The first section of the meter is green. While your meter is green you will only be able to perform normal tricks. You will not be able to link tricks from the different sections during this time, only on the section you are in. While the meter is green it will drop very slow.

Yellow – Your meter will turn yellow when you get it maxed out from doing tricks. The best way to get your meter into the yellow is by doing face tricks or landing air tricks perfect. Once your meter is yellow you can perform special tricks on each section of the wave and link your tricks together from section to section. The meter will drop much faster when it is yellow. To keep the meter in the yellow section, keep performing tricks near the breaking section and try and land all your air tricks perfect. The longer your meter is yellow, the quicker it will drop.

Note: Linking your tricks with the special meter is where the big scores are!

Perfect and Sloppy

Perfect – When you land perfect, you'll get a big boost to your Special Meter. In order to land perfect, you must land in an angle opposite to the angle in which you launched off the wave.

Sloppy – If you land at an angle that is close to bailing, you'll land sloppy. This will decrease your Special Meter considerably.

Note: Sloppy = bad!

Scoring Tips

Maxing your Special Meter and linking tricks will get the most points.

- Do face tricks to max out your Special Meter. Keep your meter maxed by performing more face tricks or by landing perfect from an air trick.
- Special tricks can net bigger scores
- Linking your tricks will really up the ante.
- Every unique trick you do with the meter maxed adds more points. The bigger the trick, the more points you get.
- Repeating tricks lowers their value and makes the Special Meter drop more quickly.
- There are different sections of each wave. The closer to the break, the more points you will receive for any given trick. Stay close and tight to score big.
- The longer the tube-ride, the more points you're going to get.
- Landing perfect will give a big boost to your Special Meter. This will help to keep it in the yellow.
- Spins in the air add points. However, only a complete rotation will get the credit.
- Cash in Combo – To cash in your combo press the 0 on the Numpad. This can be very handy in Multiplayer Push™ Mode to reclaim screen space.

Balance/Tube Meter

Once you stall in the tube, your rider will go into Tube Mode. While in Tube Mode, the Balance Meter with two sections appears: balance and tube depth. To keep your balance in the tube, you'll need to keep the red upside down triangle in the middle of the meter by pressing left and right on the directional pad to balance your rider.

The tube depth meter will move from yellow to red once you're really deep in the tube. The deeper and the longer the tube-ride, the more points you get and the more difficult it becomes.

Wave Meter

You'll notice a small Wave Meter located in the bottom right corner of the screen. An arrow appears on this meter to show which direction the wave is breaking and which way the rider should go. This meter also displays the various breaking points of the wave. This will help you locate the breaking sections to shoot the tube or floater over. The Wave Meter also displays the size of the wave to the bottom right of the Wave Meter and the next wave height to the left of the meter.

MAIN MENU

Handicap

Highlight the Handicap meter and press the left or right on the directional pad to adjust the handicap. Think you suck and have no skills? Well adjust the meter for more stats. Think you are all that and a bag of chips? Then lower the meter and see what you've really got.

Also note: All good players, like us, lower their stats to become even better.

Infinite Time

SURFERS

Kelly Slater

Age: 30

Hometown: Cocoa Beach, FL

Years Pro: 13

Sponsors: Quiksilver, Al Merrick, K-GRIP

Never has anyone dominated surfing like Kelly Slater. The six-time World Champion is the hero of surfers worldwide. Even in his early teens, Slater was a natural competitor, claiming six Eastern Surfing Association and four National titles before heading into the big leagues. At the age of twenty, in his first full year on the tour, Slater became the youngest surfer ever to win the world title, backing up the hype that had been growing around him. His contest record is unrivaled, but it was his incredible freesurfing, as seen in vids like Quiksilver's Kelly Slater in Black and White, Surfers of Fortune and Taylor Steele's Momentum series, that changed the way an entire generation of kids surfed and looked at surfing—the bar had been raised to a completely new level. Slater drew sharp, radical lines and he did it with power and style. For the last decade, the rest of the competitive surfing world has been playing catch up. During the '99 Pipe Masters, he blew minds everywhere when he nearly pulled a rodeo clown—he would eventually win the contest, claiming his fifth Pipe Masters victory. After taking a few years off the pro circuit, Kelly is back on tour and on a quest to break new world records.

Lisa Andersen

Age: 33

Hometown: Ormond Beach, FL

Years Pro: 15

Sponsors: Roxy, Reef, Al Merrick

"I'm going to become world champion." That's what it said in the note 16 year-old Lisa wrote her parents when she left home in Ormond Beach, Florida to move to Huntington Beach, California. She'd only been surfing for three years and had no idea such a thing existed, but Lisa would live up to her words. The gifted regular-foot rapidly gained exposure and experience racking up over 30 National Scholastic Surfing Association trophies in less than a year and winning the US National Championships at Sebastian Inlet in 1987. From there, she just kept climbing. Four World Titles later, Lisa is still widely considered the most raw-talented female surfer on the planet. Along the way, Lisa became sponsored by Roxy, Quiksilver's Women's division. Through this relationship, the world saw a whole new face of women's surfing. With her natural beauty and aggressive surfing, Lisa became the icon of a new generation of women's surfing and to this day is one of the most feared competitors on the women's circuit.

Tom Curren

Age: 38

Hometown: Santa Barbara, CA

Years Pro: 16

Sponsors: The Realm

In the '70s and early '80s, the Australians owned the world of surfing. But in 1982, a quiet, eighteen-year-old kid from California changed all that with a standout victory down under in Duranbah, Australia. It didn't take long before Tom Curren was the most popular surfer on the planet, a position he'd hold for two decades. A two-time West Coast, United States, and World Amateur Champion, Curren fast-tracked his way into the big leagues with brilliant, unique surfing. In 1985-1986, he won back-to-back World Titles, and gained global respect as a surfer whose talent and wave-mastery went well beyond his years. It was in part thanks to his father, legendary big-wave surfer Pat Curren, who had Tom navigating the Santa Barbara pointbreaks almost as soon as he could walk. By the late '80s, Curren lost interest in competition and took off on a surf quest entitled "The Search." In 1990, he returned to competition and shocked the surfing world by winning his third World Title. Through the '90s, Tom remained the most low-profile top surfer in the world, with insane photos from remote mysto breaks trickling in every now and then. He currently holds the records for most career tournament victories (33), most victories in one season (7), and most consecutive years with at least one ASP victory (10).

Tom Carroll

Age: 40

Hometown: Newport, NSW Australia

Years Pro: 20

Sponsors: Quiksilver

Sydney, Australia's Tom Carroll has been a giant contributor to all that is professional surfing. He jumped on tour in 1979, an aggro, nuggety goofy-foot with a penchant for deep tube riding and hard, full rail slashes. He won back-to-back World Titles in '83 and '84, both under the influence of brutal training regimens. In '85 he took a political stance and boycotted the WCT contest in South Africa, in effect sacrificing the opportunity to win a third consecutive title. In '88 he signed surfing's first million dollar contract and proceeded to take the sport to places it had never been before, for example, a wave pool event in Pennsylvania that he won. The tail end of Tom's career was highlighted by bar-raising performances at Pipeline, Hawaii (he won in '91). Today, Tom's a husband, a father of two, and as hardcore a surfer you'll find anywhere, spending a good part of his year exploring uncharted wave destinations and pulling into the biggest barrels he can find.

Kalani Robb

Age: 24
Hometown: North Shore, Hawaii
Years Pro: 7
Sponsors: Fox, Airtight, Local Motion, Oakley

Spawned from the fertile waters of Oahu, Hawaii's North Shore, Kalani Robb is a fiery, energetic, lightning-quick goofy-foot capable of winning any event he enters. His best year to date was '96 where he finished seventh in the world and his maiden World Championship

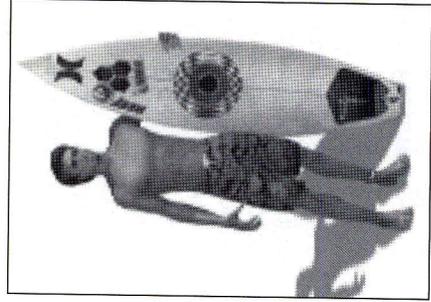

Tour victory came just this last season in Rio de Janeiro, a win which had most Kalani-initiates saying, "it's about time!" Kalani comes from a highly supportive family; his mother and father stood by him the entire time as he rose up the amateur ranks. He turned pro in '93 and has a reputation that tends to exceed his contest results. The reason for this? Kalani's style is wildly expressive. He tends to be a gambler when it comes to contests, someone who's willing to risk going for the big 10-point moves that either bring the beach to its feet or leave Kalani in the lurch. Known amongst his friends as a witty, one-liner kind of funnyman, Kalani's brightest day has yet to come.

Rob Machado

Age: 28
Hometown: Encinitas, CA
Years Pro: 9
Sponsors: Reef, Al Merrick, Hurley

The smooth, flowing, seemingly effortless style of Rob "Mob" Machado is mirrored in his quiet, Zen-like approach to life. The masterful 28 year-old goofy-foot, raised in Southern California, has been a permanent fixture in the World Championship Tour's (WCT) top ranks for eight years now. He's finished in the top 16 every one of those years, however, the year 2000 is when Rob completely lit up the tour. Whether he was getting spit out of gaping Tahitian tubes or ripping apart the French sandbars on the European leg, Rob was the man to beat in 2000. He finished the year with a remarkable 3 WCT victories, the last of which was in the most prestigious of all surf contests, Hawaii's Pipe Masters. After finishing number three in the world this year, it seems Rob isn't going anywhere until he gets a World Title under his belt.

Bruce Irons

Age: 22
Hometown: Hanalei, Kauai
Years Pro: 5
Sponsors: Volcom, DC, Local Motion, Body Glove, Arnette

Bruce Irons is probably the most naturally talented surfer since Kelly Slater. The Kauai wonderkid blew everyone's minds in '99 with his incredible backside tube riding in the Pipe Masters event held in Hawaii. But even before that, he'd been a standout in photos from Indonesia boat trips with the most progressive surfers in the world. Brucey surfs with a rare mix of raw new-school talent combined with old-school rail power. He's one of the few guys who can sit in a macking pipe barrel on his backhand just as easy as launching six-foot out and landing a frontside 360 air. Bruce, like his brother Andy, has taken a much more radical, progressive approach to any wave he surfs, and kids worldwide are following his lead. Last year he had a string of contest victories in Hawaii, showing that he was capable of much more than just spectacular freesurfing. But whether or not Bruce attempts to take his act to the full-time competitive battleground is beside the point, he's already one of the best by any standard.

Nathan Fletcher

Age: 27

Hometown: San Clemente, CA

Years Pro: 8

Sponsors: Quiksilver, Cole, Oakley

When your dad's the legendary Herbie Fletcher and your brother Christian is the pioneer of aerial surfing, there's an enormous shadow to get lost in. Yet for Nathan Fletcher, it was never a problem. A well-known local San Clemente, California surfer, Nathan burst onto the big stage in 1999 when the photos from a trip he took to Tahiti surfaced in the magazines. From there, things went upward, literally. Nathan quickly showed himself to be every bit the aerialist his brother Christian was while pushing his own limits to formulate new tricks for future riders. Soon, he was sticking ollie 540s and some of the most massive backside airs ever seen. While many freesurfers don't get a lot of notoriety, the quiet, introspective goofy-foot has a punk-hero following worldwide. Recently added to the Quiksilver team, we'll be seeing a lot more of Nathan in the coming years.

Donavon Frankenreiter

Age: 29

Hometown: San Juan Capistrano, CA

Years Pro: 14

Sponsors: Billabong, Sanuk, Von Zipper

Southern Californian Donavon Frankenreiter is a surfer whose ability is not reflected in his contest results. Why? He doesn't compete. Dono's what you call a "free surfer," a surfer who's paid to ride waves but not required to enter competitions. Instead, Dono chooses to explore old, vintage surfboards; riding everything from old '70s pintails, mid-'80s twin fins, and mid-'80s fishes all in the course of a day. Dono spawned from that hotbed of talent known as the San Clemente Mafia and immediately took his show on the road, travelling to remote corners of the globe such as Norway and Ireland. He's more a journeyman than a surfer, taking in the entire experience of travel and not just the waves. He also plays in a rock n roll band called Sunchild, which he's managed to fuse with his surfing career. The beach by day, the stage by night; Donavon is often dubbed "The Renaissance Man."
