Playing and Learning with Disney's Winnie the Pooh and Tigger Too Animated StoryBook CD-ROM

With Disney Interactive's easy-to-use Disney's Winnie the Pooh and Tigger Too Animated StoryBook, your child learns while enjoying the adventures of Pooh Bear and his friends. Four engaging games add to the fun, while the Read option develops early reading skills.

Just start your computer and follow the easy installation instructions to begin exploring the fun-filled adventures of Disney's Winnie the Pooh and Tigger Too Animated StoryBook.

Disney's Winnie the Pooh and Tigger Too Animated StoryBook is based on the works of A. A. Milne, author of some of the greatest works of children's literature.

Educated at Cambridge, Alan Alexander Milne (1882-1956) was an established journalist and playwright whose whimsical comedies were successfully produced on the London stage. From 1906 to 1914, Milne edited the humorous English weekly, Punch. He later served in the Royal Warwickshire Regiment from 1915 to 1918, during World War I.

The collection of children's stories and verse written for his own son, Christopher Robin, and created in collaboration with illustrator E. H. Shepard, has earned Milne an enduring place in the hearts of generations of children and adults.

Although Milne's characters are based on his son's collection of stuffed animals, their all-too-human shortcomings and triumphs give the stories ageless appeal. As children see Christopher Robin gently help Pooh along, so parents and children can grow together to greater mutual understanding.

Milne's collections of children's stories and poems include:

When We Were Very Young (1924)

Now We Are Six (1927)

Winnie the Pooh (1926)

The House at Pooh Corner (1928)

To reinforce some of the lessons learned in the Hundred-Acre Wood, try a few of the following activities with your child:

- ✿ Read the original books by Milne and Shepard aloud.
- ✿ Encourage your child to retell the story of Winnie the Pooh in his or her own words and pictures.
- ✿ Review the words in the story text. Discuss their meanings and encourage your child to use them in new sentences.
- ✿ Pick a few objects around your home and describe them. Ask your child to identify them by color, shape, the sound the object makes, and how they are used.
- ✿ Following Rabbit's example, make cleaning up your child's room fun by discovering the right spot for each object.

Please remember to send in your registration card so we may notify you of special offers and other Disney Interactive programs.

GARDENING WITH RABBIT

Rabbit needs help harvesting his garden which is neatly laid out in rows with the fruits and vegetables evenly spaced. This matching game grows into a memory game. You must find matching pairs of fruits and vegetables to harvest Rabbit's garden.

Basic Gameplay

For all levels: You click on one item, which highlights, and then click on another to match it. When a match is made, the items pop up from the garden and into the wheelbarrow. If the pair does not match, the highlights disappear, and nothing appears in the wheelbarrow.

Level 1: All 16 fruits and vegetables are visible throughout the game.

Level 2: All 16 fruits and vegetables are visible, but when the game begins, the items sink back into the garden and the child hunts for matches.

Level 3: None of the 16 fruits or vegetables is visible when the game begins.

Clicking once on a fruit or vegetable highlights it; clicking a second time on it un-highlights it. Rabbit prompts you after intervals of cursor inactivity and comments on your progress throughout the course of the game.

Clicking on the Reset icon begins the game again. You may change levels at any time during gameplay.

TIC-TAC-ROO

It's a beautiful winter day and Roo is ready to play! Challenge Roo to a game of Tic-Tac-Toe and see if you can outsmart him in this fun strategy game.

Basic Gameplay

You and Roo put X's and O's in empty squares until one of you has three in a row and wins. If you want to go first, just click on an empty square. Then it's Roo's turn. If you want Roo to go first, click on him.

You trade off picking squares until someone wins.

There are three levels for this game based on intelligence set up in the programming, which determines how "smart" Roo's choices are for each level.

Roo prompts you after intervals of cursor inactivity and comments on your progress throughout the course of the game.

Clicking on the Reset icon begins the game again. You may change levels at any time during gameplay.

POOH'S ICY MAZE

You must help Pooh make it through the maze to rescue Tigger and Roo. Skates, a balloon, and a shovel appear along the way, which help Pooh get through particular sections of the maze.

Basic Gameplay

With the mouse cursor, you move Pooh along a path from the upper right to lower left on the screen by clicking ahead of Pooh to show him where to move.

Level 1: Level 2: Level 3:

You may change levels at any time during gameplay.

Piglet prompts you after intervals of cursor inactivity and comments on your progress throughout the course of the game.

Clicking on the Reset icon begins the game again. The maze is regenerated with elements placed randomly each time the game is reset.

EVERYONE BOUNCE!

Tigger and Roo are now safely down from the tree and Rabbit has decided that bouncing isn't so bad, so here's a chance for everyone to bounce! Characters will bounce in a certain order and you need to click on them in the same order in which they have bounced.

Basic Gameplay

The goal of the game is to repeat the pattern created by Pooh and his friends in a sequence of bounces. You do this by clicking on the characters after they bounce, trying to repeat their pattern. After each successful repetition, another character will be added to the sequence until you have completed a full sequence correctly. You then have the option to play another game within that level, or move up or down to another level.

Each character's bounce cycle is unique, but all of them run for approximately two seconds. For instance, Christopher Robin may bounce up and down twice in his sequence, while Piglet bounces four times during his sequence.

Within a level, the bounce sequences are determined randomly; for example, in Level 1, you may see a 3-bounce cycle followed by a 5-bounce cycle, followed by a 4-bounce cycle, etc. If you don't copy the pattern correctly, the sequence resets to another one within that level until you change levels or leave the game.

LEVELING:

Level 1: The easiest level with sequences of 3 to 5 bounces.

Level 2: The middle level with sequences of 6 to 8 bounces.

Level 3: The most difficult level with sequences of 9 to 11 bounces.

Clicking on the Reset icon begins the game again. You may change levels at any time during gameplay.

Various characters prompts you after intervals of cursor inactivity and comment on your progress throughout the course of the game.
